

inTech takes great pride in manufacturing the the absolute finest all-aluminum trailers in the industry. Our dedicated Amish workforce has a long heritage of quality workmanship that is easily seen in every trailer we produce.

Every trailer we manufacturer is custom-built to the exact specifications of the customer. If you can dream it, we can likely build it...so let your imagination run wild and rest assured, inTech will manufacture a trailer that will exceed your expectations.

Every inTech Trailers comes with a detailed print pack including an interactive 3D model, so you can easily visualize every aspect of your trailer even before we weld the first aluminum tube. We make absolutely certain that your trailer is built to your exact specifications!

inTech Trailers have an industry first, transferable warranty. This means a much higher resale value for you in the event that you should choose to sell your trailer in the first five years of ownership. We cover your trailer for three years against defects in material and workmanship and a full five years on the frame. We are absolutely confident that you are buying the best trailer in the industry and we back it up with the undisputed best warranty...period!
